

LCQG GENERAL MEETING MINUTES January 28, 2020

Vice-President Linda Lake called the meeting to order at 1:05 pm. There were 90 members and 12 visitors in attendance.

VICE-PRESIDENT: Linda Lake welcomed everyone back after the holiday break and wished everyone a happy 2020 new year.

Linda mentioned that QOTT committee will be looking for volunteer help. A sign-up sheet will be out next month for anyone who would like to help with our upcoming Guild quilt show in July 2020.

Linda provided an update for OUTREACH. All the blocks for the charity quilt are being collected and the quilt is progressing well.

Linda reminded everyone that our February monthly meeting will be an opportunity to bring in personal and/or family heirloom/historic quilts for February show and tell. She also provided an update on our February speaker Joanna Dermenjian. Joanna is a student from Queen's University. She is currently researching quilts that Canadian women made during WWII for the Red Cross. She will be sharing her research with us. She is also interested in acquiring quilt items from that era 1939-1945.

PROGRAM: Linda Lake reminded everyone that workshop information is listed at the tables and you can review over the break. The upcoming April workshop with Andrea Tsang has low enrolment and may have to be cancelled if there's not enough interest.

Mary Cunningham, BLOCK OF THE MONTH, showed everyone the "Snowflake" block for this month. Mary reminds everyone that you can still join in on the block of the month and get the instructions.

Moira Bell, PUBLICITY requested assistance distributing the QOTT promotional flyers. Please see her at the break if you can deliver any of the QOTT promo packages to some of the quilt shops.

Linda Lake reminded everyone about upcoming the challenges. The 2020 Guild Challenge with your birth flower/stone. The CQA Challenge deadline is March. Linda showed some of her examples for the CQA challenge. There's also the CQA postcard challenge. More information can be found at the break at the tables.

Carole Armstrong mentioned the fabric that is available at today's meeting on the back table is for anyone who would like to make items for sale at the "boutique" during our QOTT Guild Show in July.

Peggy Cowle, SOCIAL, asked anyone who would like to provide a snack at the next meeting to please put their name down on the sign-up sheet.
